

Nomura Global High Conviction Fund - Class MYR

February 2024

Fund Commentary and Strategy

During the month, the Fund was mainly invested in the Target Fund.

Commentary from the Target Fund Manager

The fund in February returned +0.98% in February, struggling to keep up with a strong month for the equity markets with an increasingly concentrated rally, and underperforming the MSCI All-Country World Index benchmark by 3.69%. The fund underperformance in February was driven by stock selection.

The main positive contributors were Amazon and Tractor Supply. Amazon shares (+14%) performed strongly after delivering good Q4 results, with Amazon Web Services (AWS) growth higher than expected, advertising now being a US$15bn per quarter business and accelerating margins and free cash flow (FCF). Tractor Supply (+14%) reported Q4 results in line with consensus but provided a more positive view about Q1 and expects to return to its long term algorithm targets as macro conditions improve.

On the detractors side, we see Daikin Industries, Nestlé and our lack of exposure to Nvidia. Daikin Industries (-13%) was dragged down by disappointing Q3 earnings, especially on the operating margin front, as heat pump demand in Europe hasn't recovered and lower housing investments in the US has led to inventory adjustments. Nestlé (-9%) underperformed after reporting disappointing Q4 numbers and guiding for 2024 organic growth at just 4%. We feel that both companies are attractively priced after the recent move. Nvidia (+29%) contributed 54bps to our underperformance, as we do not have exposure to the company, and shares rallied after strong Q4 results and outlook.
